

Fort Wayne Sentinel.
SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1851.
The Printing business wanted at this office immediately.
Mr. V. B. PALMER, Tribune Building, New York; Third and Chesnut Streets, Philadelphia; and Colby's Building, Boston, is Agent for the entire for these cities, and is authorized to receive subscriptions and advertisements, &c., on our account.
Religious Notice.—The Rev. J. D. GLEN, of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, will preach (Providence permitting) in the 1st Presbyterian Church in this city, on Sabbath, the 30th inst., at 11 o'clock A. M.
An Act passed by the late Legislature repeals the act providing for the election of prosecuting attorneys in each county, and provides that one shall be elected in each circuit, and hold his office for two years.
Allen County Convention.—The Allen County Convention will be held on Saturday the 29th May next.
We again call upon our friends in the several townships to attend to the appointment of delegates. Let us have a full convention; let every township be represented by full delegates; and above all, let every delegate be a thorough going democrat—such a one as will maintain no trust, faithful to the cause of the people, and will feel himself bound in honor to cordially support the nominees, whether they are the men of his choice or not. We all have, of course, our preferences, and all cannot succeed in having their favorites nominated. But if the nominees are deserving the support of the party—and none else ought to be nominated—every delegate should feel it his duty to give them a hearty and cordial support.
Our party is now in the ascendant in this country. Much will depend on the action of our conventions in maintaining this ascendancy. If they nominate such men as are worthy the support of the party, the democrats will remain united and victorious. But if a contrary course be adopted—if men are nominated who do not invariably sustain the usages and principles of the party—the true democracy will become disgusted, and feel under no obligations to vote for candidates they do not look upon as fairly entitled to their support; and the result will be, we shall become disorganized; our strength will be broken, our candidates defeated, and our ascendancy lost.
Id. Supervisor.—By an act of the late Legislature it is provided that hereafter voters in this county shall vote only for the road supervisor in the district in which they reside instead of voting for the supervisor in the township as formerly. Ballots containing the names of more than one supervisor will not be counted.
The New York Canals will be opened for business on the 15th April next.
Farmers and Mechanics' Bank, Detroit.—There has been some excitement in regard to the stability of this bank; but it appears to have been unfounded. The Toledo Blade of Wednesday states, on the authority of one of their bank officers who had just returned from Detroit, that the excitement there had entirely subsided, and that the bank was "considered equally good with the other Michigan Banks." Query: How good is that?

York Senator.—The whigs in the Legislature have at length succeeded in electing HAMILTON Fish U. S. Senator. Fish is a Seward man, an abolition, an American, and altogether, rather a politician. New York politics and its will soon become a reproach and a disgrace.
Peter Parley.—The Peter Parley comes to us clothed in a new dress, and is now one of the best looking papers in the state. The paper, under charge of its present editor, has been ably conducted, and we are glad to notice the evidence of success afforded by the improved appearance of the paper.
Owen Testimonial.—The "Women of Indiana," or "some on 'em"—intend presenting to R. D. Owen a public testimonial of gratitude for his efforts on behalf of women's rights. The presentation will take place in the Hall of the House of Representatives, on Wednesday, the 28th May next. Professor Larabee will deliver the address.
Mr. Goodrich. well known as Peter Parley, has been confirmed as U. S. Consul at Paris, in place of Mr. Walsh, removed.
The Railroad Question.—The time is drawing near when the vote is to be taken whether Allen Co. is to have a railroad opening a direct communication with the eastern cities at all seasons, or whether we are to remain, as at present, shut out for one half the year. There appears to be more opposition to the measure than we had anticipated; but this opposition is chiefly attributable to the want of proper information on the subject. The friends of the railroad ought to be on the alert and spare no effort to have the matter properly understood.
Democratic Defeat in New Hampshire.—The democrats in New Hampshire have got themselves into a pretty snarl. Mr. Attwood was first nominated for Governor; but in consequence of his being opposed to the compromise measures, he was set aside and Mr. Dinsmore nominated. Mr. Attwood ran as an independent candidate, and the result is there has been no choice for Governor by the people; it is not yet certain that the whigs will not have a majority in the Legislature, which elects the Governor; two whigs and two democrats have been elected to Congress; and worse than all, the new constitution has been defeated. So much for attempting to engraft the compromise upon the democratic platform. We contend that it ought to be left an open question, and stand entirely upon its own merits; that no man who is in other respects a good democrat, should be proscribed for opposition to it, nor any preferred for supporting it. Unless this course is adopted, disaster, disunion and defeat will assuredly await the democratic party.
The democrats in Indiana will do well to take warning by the result in New Hampshire.
MAJOR NOAN, the popular and celebrated New York editor, died in that city on the 18th inst. of paralytic attack.
Gen. GEORGE McDUFFIE, formerly U. S. Senator from South Carolina, died at Camden, S. C., on the 16th inst.
Death of Geo. A. Chapman.—With unmitigated feelings of regret we announce the death of Geo. A. CHAPMAN, in this city, on Saturday, the 15th inst., in the 43d year of his age.
Mr. Chapman was born at Salem, Mass., in 1808; was left an orphan at six years of age by the death of his father at French Mills; was apprenticed to the printing business at fourteen, but spent most of the remaining years of his minority at sea.
In 1839, in company with his brother, J. P. CHAPMAN, he commenced the publication of the Waltham Enquirer, at Terre Haute, Ind., which was afterwards transferred to Evansville, under the title of the South Western Sentinel. In 1841, the firm commenced the State Sentinel at this place, and continued its publication, with much credit to themselves, for nine years ending on the 1st June, 1850.
The deceased was a man of untiring energy and activity, and enjoyed the general respect and esteem of the community.—Indiana State-man.
Our Railroad.—The Upper Sandusky Dem. Pioneer, copies the paragraph from the Sentinel in relation to the proclamation of the Sheriff of Allen Co. authorizing a vote to be taken on the question of the county's subscribing stock—and adds:—
From the above it will be seen that the Fort Wayne folks are making preparations to subscribe stock to the Ohio and Indiana Railroad Company. The county of Allen is to take a vote on this question, on the seventh of April next, and this matter will become a subject to the capital stock of said company, or not; and it appears from the remarks of the editor that there will not be much opposition to the proposition. When the citizens of Fr. Wayne shall have determined on doing their part, and we now have every assurance that they are at work, and will cease their efforts until they accomplish their object, we can soon realize the fruits of our united efforts. Some time in July next we can be placed under contract and successfully carried on. Much depends upon the enterprising citizens of the flourishing town of Fr. Wayne; but we feel satisfied that they are leaving nothing to chance, and are calculating to overtake the great improvement; and ere many months roll round, the picks and shovels will be tearing up the turf.
AN ACT to repeal certain acts therein named, and for other purposes in Allen county.
Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That an act to regulate the practice of law in the Allen circuit court, and for other purposes, approved January 15, 1844, and the 4th section of an act entitled an act relative to the full term of the circuit court in the twelfth judicial circuit and for other purposes, approved December 29, 1844, be and the same is hereby repealed.
Sec. 2. All laws suspended or repealed by the act entitled an act to regulate the practice of law in the Allen circuit court and for other purposes, approved January 15, 1844, be and the same are hereby revived, and declared in full force in the circuit court of Allen county, on the 1st day of July next.
Sec. 3. The July term of the circuit court in Allen county, be, and the same is hereby abolished.
Sec. 4. This act to take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and being filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of Allen county.
E. DUMONT,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JAS. H. LANE,
President of the Senate.
We do not know what was sought to be accomplished by the passage of this act, or at whose instance it was introduced. The effect of the act, in the opinion of the lawyers here, is, that no court can be held in Allen County until the next Legislature meets, and passes a bill authorizing the same! This local and special legislation has been a great curse to the state, and we are glad that the new constitution will soon put an end to it.

New York, March 6, 1851.
There was a big failure in town yesterday, viz: that of Austens and Spicer, auctioneers, whose liabilities amount to millions. Their paper was considered just as good as the bank, and it circulated freely. There was not the slightest suspicion, yesterday morning, of the shock that was to fall like a thunder-bolt upon Wall street at 3 P. M. In the forenoon, Gen. Spicer might be seen selling away with his usual equanimity and good humor, yet of course he was aware that at 3 o'clock this shock was "bound to come."
I understand that the amount of their paper protested yesterday afternoon was $90,000. The papers don't give the particulars. About six months ago, Austens & Spicer refused to take their own paper in pay for goods sold to them for others at auction, and this led to an inquiry into their condition.
They made a statement, satisfied their creditors of their solvency, "some how," and confidence in them was re-established.
This suspension has had a gripping effect on the money market, and added to the alleged suspension of the Hamilton Exchange Bank, the Hollister Bank, Henry Keep's Bank, and the Lewis County Bank, (all small concerns in this State,) it may produce some degree of panic, and several failures. Messrs. Austens & Spicer, it is said, have been unfortunate in some speculations, connected with the failure of the Eastern & Co. of the Empire City Mills at Utica.
The wife of one-eyed Thompson—said to be a good wife and mother—has been presented with $50 by Christy's Minstrels.
The body of Thompson is to be buried to-day at Jersey City. The funeral will undoubtedly be a grand one, and will be a small representation of which will consist of individuals of a very interesting stamp to the police.
O'Donnell, the Irishman, who at the trial of W. S. O'Brien for insurance in Green River, resolutely refused to testify against the prisoner, and suffered incarceration for his gallantry, is to be hanged at the gallows to-morrow night at 10 o'clock, in the Penitentiary of Ireland in a hall in Broadway.
Arch Deacon Panton, of Jamaica, is in town; and so too are Nathan Appleton (the cotton millionaire) and Hon. Geo. Ashmun, of Massachusetts.
Spencer, the contractor in the case of the fallen buildings in 21st Street, died a day or two ago, of apoplexy.
Henry Carnel, who stabbed an old man and his two sons in Day street last November, was yesterday found guilty of the murder. This is one of the most atrocious cases on record.
The person killed, a remarkable old man named Charles M. Bonney, had been very kind to Carnel and fed and lodged him when he could get shelter nowhere else.
On the night in question, he had come in at a late hour unexpectedly, and the father and his two sons put themselves to considerable inconvenience in order to give him a lodging. The boys were asleep, and the father, in a fit of passion, seized a gun and fired at him. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed.
Considerable regret is felt here because there was no more liberal opposition made by Congress in behalf of the Collins U. S. mail line steamers. The contract is a losing one to the enterprising proprietors.
The case of the alleged scoundrel upon Walter P. Flinders esq. by Cryder & McKay, in the Milwaukee Bond matter, was before the police court yesterday, but nothing was ascertained as to the result. It is not probable that deep gamesters have been played. Strangers coming to this city should beware of all plausible people who offer "great inducements," "capital bargains," &c. These are "springs to catch wood-cock."
Some of us incline to the opinion that in the history of the Pennsylvania and Erie roads, on the last night of its session, Mr. Josiah Snow obtained pretty fair picking in getting the right of way and $350,000 from Uncle Sam to aid him in constructing a line of Telegraph from Missouri to California. The cheap postage law appears to be exceedingly welcome to all parties, particularly to newspaper correspondents.
For the Sentinel.
Mr. Editor—Through the medium of your paper to say a few words in regard to the railroad. The time is now approaching when the people of Allen county will be called upon to vote for or against the proposed railroad, and as the time approaches for the final decision of the question it behooves the friends of the measure to use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people. I feel that the people of Allen county are entitled to a free and fair vote, and that the friends of the measure should use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people. I feel that the people of Allen county are entitled to a free and fair vote, and that the friends of the measure should use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people.
Imagine you see a group of lads in highly ventilated pantalons and with faces which express a mixture of the greatest and the most refined of the human mind. Some of them may be engaged in pitching cents into a hole which with Irish facility at excavation, they have made in the sidewalk. It is a little gambling game, initiatory to more extensive operations of the same nature, in after years, but it attracts no notice except from the eyes of the old newsboys, who are looking on, and betting on the other lads.
Presently an infant sprig of Green Erin, with an old "shiny cap," minus the visor, and a dozen papers under one arm, runs up and says: "Covies the Asia's telegraphed." "Ye lie sheant!" cries one of the players who is in the habit of "joking" the other.
"By—ye is, too!" asserts the first, with an oath indicating great precocity in swearing, even in this city where profanity is as common as sugar and coffee among all classes.
The game is dropped, the coppers are snatched up, and the little fellow vanishes. "How'd you know?" "I seed Smith," the newsboy man, put out for below with his boat to get her papers!"
Now the toys are all tiptoe for Smith's return. After the lapse of a little time, here comes a man reeling with rum, and amid leaves of "Here's Smith!" rushes with a small canvas bag under his arm into the office of the crack newsboy.
The boys are not admitted into the office to disturb the half dozen editors and fifty compositors, who are always getting out the news, around a table in swarming throngs, and in a few minutes, the sound of Hoe's patent Mammotte Press in the basement, soon greets their expectant ears. "It's gone to Press!" they cry; and they crowd a little closer and swear at each other a little harder for "scrapping so!"
In an incredible short space of time a pile of "The Sentinel" is sent to the printer of the publication counter. The doors are opened, and head over heels, in rush the boys, an avalanche of heads and legs. The excitement is fearful of course, but each secures and pays for two or three dozen extras, and immediately pays as great a distance between him and the "Here's Smith!" as he can get, and selling as he goes, and getting the cream of the route he has taken.
Excuse me for giving so much notice to so trifling a subject, but I want to give you occasionally an off-hand at New York life, and especially the New-Boys are a feature.
The contributions for the widow of one-eyed Thompson (the forger, counterfeiter, stool-pigeon and suicide,) still continue to increase. She seems to be a very deserving object.
Among the hot applications which Dr. Kingdland, the Mayor, is giving to the society

New York, March 6, 1851.
There was a big failure in town yesterday, viz: that of Austens and Spicer, auctioneers, whose liabilities amount to millions. Their paper was considered just as good as the bank, and it circulated freely. There was not the slightest suspicion, yesterday morning, of the shock that was to fall like a thunder-bolt upon Wall street at 3 P. M. In the forenoon, Gen. Spicer might be seen selling away with his usual equanimity and good humor, yet of course he was aware that at 3 o'clock this shock was "bound to come."
I understand that the amount of their paper protested yesterday afternoon was $90,000. The papers don't give the particulars. About six months ago, Austens & Spicer refused to take their own paper in pay for goods sold to them for others at auction, and this led to an inquiry into their condition.
They made a statement, satisfied their creditors of their solvency, "some how," and confidence in them was re-established.
This suspension has had a gripping effect on the money market, and added to the alleged suspension of the Hamilton Exchange Bank, the Hollister Bank, Henry Keep's Bank, and the Lewis County Bank, (all small concerns in this State,) it may produce some degree of panic, and several failures. Messrs. Austens & Spicer, it is said, have been unfortunate in some speculations, connected with the failure of the Eastern & Co. of the Empire City Mills at Utica.
The wife of one-eyed Thompson—said to be a good wife and mother—has been presented with $50 by Christy's Minstrels.
The body of Thompson is to be buried to-day at Jersey City. The funeral will undoubtedly be a grand one, and will be a small representation of which will consist of individuals of a very interesting stamp to the police.
O'Donnell, the Irishman, who at the trial of W. S. O'Brien for insurance in Green River, resolutely refused to testify against the prisoner, and suffered incarceration for his gallantry, is to be hanged at the gallows to-morrow night at 10 o'clock, in the Penitentiary of Ireland in a hall in Broadway.
Arch Deacon Panton, of Jamaica, is in town; and so too are Nathan Appleton (the cotton millionaire) and Hon. Geo. Ashmun, of Massachusetts.
Spencer, the contractor in the case of the fallen buildings in 21st Street, died a day or two ago, of apoplexy.
Henry Carnel, who stabbed an old man and his two sons in Day street last November, was yesterday found guilty of the murder. This is one of the most atrocious cases on record.
The person killed, a remarkable old man named Charles M. Bonney, had been very kind to Carnel and fed and lodged him when he could get shelter nowhere else.
On the night in question, he had come in at a late hour unexpectedly, and the father and his two sons put themselves to considerable inconvenience in order to give him a lodging. The boys were asleep, and the father, in a fit of passion, seized a gun and fired at him. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed.
Considerable regret is felt here because there was no more liberal opposition made by Congress in behalf of the Collins U. S. mail line steamers. The contract is a losing one to the enterprising proprietors.
The case of the alleged scoundrel upon Walter P. Flinders esq. by Cryder & McKay, in the Milwaukee Bond matter, was before the police court yesterday, but nothing was ascertained as to the result. It is not probable that deep gamesters have been played. Strangers coming to this city should beware of all plausible people who offer "great inducements," "capital bargains," &c. These are "springs to catch wood-cock."
Some of us incline to the opinion that in the history of the Pennsylvania and Erie roads, on the last night of its session, Mr. Josiah Snow obtained pretty fair picking in getting the right of way and $350,000 from Uncle Sam to aid him in constructing a line of Telegraph from Missouri to California. The cheap postage law appears to be exceedingly welcome to all parties, particularly to newspaper correspondents.
For the Sentinel.
Mr. Editor—Through the medium of your paper to say a few words in regard to the railroad. The time is now approaching when the people of Allen county will be called upon to vote for or against the proposed railroad, and as the time approaches for the final decision of the question it behooves the friends of the measure to use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people. I feel that the people of Allen county are entitled to a free and fair vote, and that the friends of the measure should use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people.
Imagine you see a group of lads in highly ventilated pantalons and with faces which express a mixture of the greatest and the most refined of the human mind. Some of them may be engaged in pitching cents into a hole which with Irish facility at excavation, they have made in the sidewalk. It is a little gambling game, initiatory to more extensive operations of the same nature, in after years, but it attracts no notice except from the eyes of the old newsboys, who are looking on, and betting on the other lads.
Presently an infant sprig of Green Erin, with an old "shiny cap," minus the visor, and a dozen papers under one arm, runs up and says: "Covies the Asia's telegraphed." "Ye lie sheant!" cries one of the players who is in the habit of "joking" the other.
"By—ye is, too!" asserts the first, with an oath indicating great precocity in swearing, even in this city where profanity is as common as sugar and coffee among all classes.
The game is dropped, the coppers are snatched up, and the little fellow vanishes. "How'd you know?" "I seed Smith," the newsboy man, put out for below with his boat to get her papers!"
Now the toys are all tiptoe for Smith's return. After the lapse of a little time, here comes a man reeling with rum, and amid leaves of "Here's Smith!" rushes with a small canvas bag under his arm into the office of the crack newsboy.
The boys are not admitted into the office to disturb the half dozen editors and fifty compositors, who are always getting out the news, around a table in swarming throngs, and in a few minutes, the sound of Hoe's patent Mammotte Press in the basement, soon greets their expectant ears. "It's gone to Press!" they cry; and they crowd a little closer and swear at each other a little harder for "scrapping so!"
In an incredible short space of time a pile of "The Sentinel" is sent to the printer of the publication counter. The doors are opened, and head over heels, in rush the boys, an avalanche of heads and legs. The excitement is fearful of course, but each secures and pays for two or three dozen extras, and immediately pays as great a distance between him and the "Here's Smith!" as he can get, and selling as he goes, and getting the cream of the route he has taken.
Excuse me for giving so much notice to so trifling a subject, but I want to give you occasionally an off-hand at New York life, and especially the New-Boys are a feature.
The contributions for the widow of one-eyed Thompson (the forger, counterfeiter, stool-pigeon and suicide,) still continue to increase. She seems to be a very deserving object.
Among the hot applications which Dr. Kingdland, the Mayor, is giving to the society

New York, March 6, 1851.
There was a big failure in town yesterday, viz: that of Austens and Spicer, auctioneers, whose liabilities amount to millions. Their paper was considered just as good as the bank, and it circulated freely. There was not the slightest suspicion, yesterday morning, of the shock that was to fall like a thunder-bolt upon Wall street at 3 P. M. In the forenoon, Gen. Spicer might be seen selling away with his usual equanimity and good humor, yet of course he was aware that at 3 o'clock this shock was "bound to come."
I understand that the amount of their paper protested yesterday afternoon was $90,000. The papers don't give the particulars. About six months ago, Austens & Spicer refused to take their own paper in pay for goods sold to them for others at auction, and this led to an inquiry into their condition.
They made a statement, satisfied their creditors of their solvency, "some how," and confidence in them was re-established.
This suspension has had a gripping effect on the money market, and added to the alleged suspension of the Hamilton Exchange Bank, the Hollister Bank, Henry Keep's Bank, and the Lewis County Bank, (all small concerns in this State,) it may produce some degree of panic, and several failures. Messrs. Austens & Spicer, it is said, have been unfortunate in some speculations, connected with the failure of the Eastern & Co. of the Empire City Mills at Utica.
The wife of one-eyed Thompson—said to be a good wife and mother—has been presented with $50 by Christy's Minstrels.
The body of Thompson is to be buried to-day at Jersey City. The funeral will undoubtedly be a grand one, and will be a small representation of which will consist of individuals of a very interesting stamp to the police.
O'Donnell, the Irishman, who at the trial of W. S. O'Brien for insurance in Green River, resolutely refused to testify against the prisoner, and suffered incarceration for his gallantry, is to be hanged at the gallows to-morrow night at 10 o'clock, in the Penitentiary of Ireland in a hall in Broadway.
Arch Deacon Panton, of Jamaica, is in town; and so too are Nathan Appleton (the cotton millionaire) and Hon. Geo. Ashmun, of Massachusetts.
Spencer, the contractor in the case of the fallen buildings in 21st Street, died a day or two ago, of apoplexy.
Henry Carnel, who stabbed an old man and his two sons in Day street last November, was yesterday found guilty of the murder. This is one of the most atrocious cases on record.
The person killed, a remarkable old man named Charles M. Bonney, had been very kind to Carnel and fed and lodged him when he could get shelter nowhere else.
On the night in question, he had come in at a late hour unexpectedly, and the father and his two sons put themselves to considerable inconvenience in order to give him a lodging. The boys were asleep, and the father, in a fit of passion, seized a gun and fired at him. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed.
Considerable regret is felt here because there was no more liberal opposition made by Congress in behalf of the Collins U. S. mail line steamers. The contract is a losing one to the enterprising proprietors.
The case of the alleged scoundrel upon Walter P. Flinders esq. by Cryder & McKay, in the Milwaukee Bond matter, was before the police court yesterday, but nothing was ascertained as to the result. It is not probable that deep gamesters have been played. Strangers coming to this city should beware of all plausible people who offer "great inducements," "capital bargains," &c. These are "springs to catch wood-cock."
Some of us incline to the opinion that in the history of the Pennsylvania and Erie roads, on the last night of its session, Mr. Josiah Snow obtained pretty fair picking in getting the right of way and $350,000 from Uncle Sam to aid him in constructing a line of Telegraph from Missouri to California. The cheap postage law appears to be exceedingly welcome to all parties, particularly to newspaper correspondents.
For the Sentinel.
Mr. Editor—Through the medium of your paper to say a few words in regard to the railroad. The time is now approaching when the people of Allen county will be called upon to vote for or against the proposed railroad, and as the time approaches for the final decision of the question it behooves the friends of the measure to use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people. I feel that the people of Allen county are entitled to a free and fair vote, and that the friends of the measure should use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people.
Imagine you see a group of lads in highly ventilated pantalons and with faces which express a mixture of the greatest and the most refined of the human mind. Some of them may be engaged in pitching cents into a hole which with Irish facility at excavation, they have made in the sidewalk. It is a little gambling game, initiatory to more extensive operations of the same nature, in after years, but it attracts no notice except from the eyes of the old newsboys, who are looking on, and betting on the other lads.
Presently an infant sprig of Green Erin, with an old "shiny cap," minus the visor, and a dozen papers under one arm, runs up and says: "Covies the Asia's telegraphed." "Ye lie sheant!" cries one of the players who is in the habit of "joking" the other.
"By—ye is, too!" asserts the first, with an oath indicating great precocity in swearing, even in this city where profanity is as common as sugar and coffee among all classes.
The game is dropped, the coppers are snatched up, and the little fellow vanishes. "How'd you know?" "I seed Smith," the newsboy man, put out for below with his boat to get her papers!"
Now the toys are all tiptoe for Smith's return. After the lapse of a little time, here comes a man reeling with rum, and amid leaves of "Here's Smith!" rushes with a small canvas bag under his arm into the office of the crack newsboy.
The boys are not admitted into the office to disturb the half dozen editors and fifty compositors, who are always getting out the news, around a table in swarming throngs, and in a few minutes, the sound of Hoe's patent Mammotte Press in the basement, soon greets their expectant ears. "It's gone to Press!" they cry; and they crowd a little closer and swear at each other a little harder for "scrapping so!"
In an incredible short space of time a pile of "The Sentinel" is sent to the printer of the publication counter. The doors are opened, and head over heels, in rush the boys, an avalanche of heads and legs. The excitement is fearful of course, but each secures and pays for two or three dozen extras, and immediately pays as great a distance between him and the "Here's Smith!" as he can get, and selling as he goes, and getting the cream of the route he has taken.
Excuse me for giving so much notice to so trifling a subject, but I want to give you occasionally an off-hand at New York life, and especially the New-Boys are a feature.
The contributions for the widow of one-eyed Thompson (the forger, counterfeiter, stool-pigeon and suicide,) still continue to increase. She seems to be a very deserving object.
Among the hot applications which Dr. Kingdland, the Mayor, is giving to the society

New York, March 6, 1851.
There was a big failure in town yesterday, viz: that of Austens and Spicer, auctioneers, whose liabilities amount to millions. Their paper was considered just as good as the bank, and it circulated freely. There was not the slightest suspicion, yesterday morning, of the shock that was to fall like a thunder-bolt upon Wall street at 3 P. M. In the forenoon, Gen. Spicer might be seen selling away with his usual equanimity and good humor, yet of course he was aware that at 3 o'clock this shock was "bound to come."
I understand that the amount of their paper protested yesterday afternoon was $90,000. The papers don't give the particulars. About six months ago, Austens & Spicer refused to take their own paper in pay for goods sold to them for others at auction, and this led to an inquiry into their condition.
They made a statement, satisfied their creditors of their solvency, "some how," and confidence in them was re-established.
This suspension has had a gripping effect on the money market, and added to the alleged suspension of the Hamilton Exchange Bank, the Hollister Bank, Henry Keep's Bank, and the Lewis County Bank, (all small concerns in this State,) it may produce some degree of panic, and several failures. Messrs. Austens & Spicer, it is said, have been unfortunate in some speculations, connected with the failure of the Eastern & Co. of the Empire City Mills at Utica.
The wife of one-eyed Thompson—said to be a good wife and mother—has been presented with $50 by Christy's Minstrels.
The body of Thompson is to be buried to-day at Jersey City. The funeral will undoubtedly be a grand one, and will be a small representation of which will consist of individuals of a very interesting stamp to the police.
O'Donnell, the Irishman, who at the trial of W. S. O'Brien for insurance in Green River, resolutely refused to testify against the prisoner, and suffered incarceration for his gallantry, is to be hanged at the gallows to-morrow night at 10 o'clock, in the Penitentiary of Ireland in a hall in Broadway.
Arch Deacon Panton, of Jamaica, is in town; and so too are Nathan Appleton (the cotton millionaire) and Hon. Geo. Ashmun, of Massachusetts.
Spencer, the contractor in the case of the fallen buildings in 21st Street, died a day or two ago, of apoplexy.
Henry Carnel, who stabbed an old man and his two sons in Day street last November, was yesterday found guilty of the murder. This is one of the most atrocious cases on record.
The person killed, a remarkable old man named Charles M. Bonney, had been very kind to Carnel and fed and lodged him when he could get shelter nowhere else.
On the night in question, he had come in at a late hour unexpectedly, and the father and his two sons put themselves to considerable inconvenience in order to give him a lodging. The boys were asleep, and the father, in a fit of passion, seized a gun and fired at him. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed.
Considerable regret is felt here because there was no more liberal opposition made by Congress in behalf of the Collins U. S. mail line steamers. The contract is a losing one to the enterprising proprietors.
The case of the alleged scoundrel upon Walter P. Flinders esq. by Cryder & McKay, in the Milwaukee Bond matter, was before the police court yesterday, but nothing was ascertained as to the result. It is not probable that deep gamesters have been played. Strangers coming to this city should beware of all plausible people who offer "great inducements," "capital bargains," &c. These are "springs to catch wood-cock."
Some of us incline to the opinion that in the history of the Pennsylvania and Erie roads, on the last night of its session, Mr. Josiah Snow obtained pretty fair picking in getting the right of way and $350,000 from Uncle Sam to aid him in constructing a line of Telegraph from Missouri to California. The cheap postage law appears to be exceedingly welcome to all parties, particularly to newspaper correspondents.
For the Sentinel.
Mr. Editor—Through the medium of your paper to say a few words in regard to the railroad. The time is now approaching when the people of Allen county will be called upon to vote for or against the proposed railroad, and as the time approaches for the final decision of the question it behooves the friends of the measure to use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people. I feel that the people of Allen county are entitled to a free and fair vote, and that the friends of the measure should use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people.
Imagine you see a group of lads in highly ventilated pantalons and with faces which express a mixture of the greatest and the most refined of the human mind. Some of them may be engaged in pitching cents into a hole which with Irish facility at excavation, they have made in the sidewalk. It is a little gambling game, initiatory to more extensive operations of the same nature, in after years, but it attracts no notice except from the eyes of the old newsboys, who are looking on, and betting on the other lads.
Presently an infant sprig of Green Erin, with an old "shiny cap," minus the visor, and a dozen papers under one arm, runs up and says: "Covies the Asia's telegraphed." "Ye lie sheant!" cries one of the players who is in the habit of "joking" the other.
"By—ye is, too!" asserts the first, with an oath indicating great precocity in swearing, even in this city where profanity is as common as sugar and coffee among all classes.
The game is dropped, the coppers are snatched up, and the little fellow vanishes. "How'd you know?" "I seed Smith," the newsboy man, put out for below with his boat to get her papers!"
Now the toys are all tiptoe for Smith's return. After the lapse of a little time, here comes a man reeling with rum, and amid leaves of "Here's Smith!" rushes with a small canvas bag under his arm into the office of the crack newsboy.
The boys are not admitted into the office to disturb the half dozen editors and fifty compositors, who are always getting out the news, around a table in swarming throngs, and in a few minutes, the sound of Hoe's patent Mammotte Press in the basement, soon greets their expectant ears. "It's gone to Press!" they cry; and they crowd a little closer and swear at each other a little harder for "scrapping so!"
In an incredible short space of time a pile of "The Sentinel" is sent to the printer of the publication counter. The doors are opened, and head over heels, in rush the boys, an avalanche of heads and legs. The excitement is fearful of course, but each secures and pays for two or three dozen extras, and immediately pays as great a distance between him and the "Here's Smith!" as he can get, and selling as he goes, and getting the cream of the route he has taken.
Excuse me for giving so much notice to so trifling a subject, but I want to give you occasionally an off-hand at New York life, and especially the New-Boys are a feature.
The contributions for the widow of one-eyed Thompson (the forger, counterfeiter, stool-pigeon and suicide,) still continue to increase. She seems to be a very deserving object.
Among the hot applications which Dr. Kingdland, the Mayor, is giving to the society

New York, March 6, 1851.
There was a big failure in town yesterday, viz: that of Austens and Spicer, auctioneers, whose liabilities amount to millions. Their paper was considered just as good as the bank, and it circulated freely. There was not the slightest suspicion, yesterday morning, of the shock that was to fall like a thunder-bolt upon Wall street at 3 P. M. In the forenoon, Gen. Spicer might be seen selling away with his usual equanimity and good humor, yet of course he was aware that at 3 o'clock this shock was "bound to come."
I understand that the amount of their paper protested yesterday afternoon was $90,000. The papers don't give the particulars. About six months ago, Austens & Spicer refused to take their own paper in pay for goods sold to them for others at auction, and this led to an inquiry into their condition.
They made a statement, satisfied their creditors of their solvency, "some how," and confidence in them was re-established.
This suspension has had a gripping effect on the money market, and added to the alleged suspension of the Hamilton Exchange Bank, the Hollister Bank, Henry Keep's Bank, and the Lewis County Bank, (all small concerns in this State,) it may produce some degree of panic, and several failures. Messrs. Austens & Spicer, it is said, have been unfortunate in some speculations, connected with the failure of the Eastern & Co. of the Empire City Mills at Utica.
The wife of one-eyed Thompson—said to be a good wife and mother—has been presented with $50 by Christy's Minstrels.
The body of Thompson is to be buried to-day at Jersey City. The funeral will undoubtedly be a grand one, and will be a small representation of which will consist of individuals of a very interesting stamp to the police.
O'Donnell, the Irishman, who at the trial of W. S. O'Brien for insurance in Green River, resolutely refused to testify against the prisoner, and suffered incarceration for his gallantry, is to be hanged at the gallows to-morrow night at 10 o'clock, in the Penitentiary of Ireland in a hall in Broadway.
Arch Deacon Panton, of Jamaica, is in town; and so too are Nathan Appleton (the cotton millionaire) and Hon. Geo. Ashmun, of Massachusetts.
Spencer, the contractor in the case of the fallen buildings in 21st Street, died a day or two ago, of apoplexy.
Henry Carnel, who stabbed an old man and his two sons in Day street last November, was yesterday found guilty of the murder. This is one of the most atrocious cases on record.
The person killed, a remarkable old man named Charles M. Bonney, had been very kind to Carnel and fed and lodged him when he could get shelter nowhere else.
On the night in question, he had come in at a late hour unexpectedly, and the father and his two sons put themselves to considerable inconvenience in order to give him a lodging. The boys were asleep, and the father, in a fit of passion, seized a gun and fired at him. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed. He repaid them by stabbing them in their sleep and cutting the throat of their father, in order to obtain about $200, which he knew they had in the house. In his flight, he jumped over a fence supposing that it was of the greatest depth down on the other side, but he fell head first into a well, and was killed.
Considerable regret is felt here because there was no more liberal opposition made by Congress in behalf of the Collins U. S. mail line steamers. The contract is a losing one to the enterprising proprietors.
The case of the alleged scoundrel upon Walter P. Flinders esq. by Cryder & McKay, in the Milwaukee Bond matter, was before the police court yesterday, but nothing was ascertained as to the result. It is not probable that deep gamesters have been played. Strangers coming to this city should beware of all plausible people who offer "great inducements," "capital bargains," &c. These are "springs to catch wood-cock."
Some of us incline to the opinion that in the history of the Pennsylvania and Erie roads, on the last night of its session, Mr. Josiah Snow obtained pretty fair picking in getting the right of way and $350,000 from Uncle Sam to aid him in constructing a line of Telegraph from Missouri to California. The cheap postage law appears to be exceedingly welcome to all parties, particularly to newspaper correspondents.
For the Sentinel.
Mr. Editor—Through the medium of your paper to say a few words in regard to the railroad. The time is now approaching when the people of Allen county will be called upon to vote for or against the proposed railroad, and as the time approaches for the final decision of the question it behooves the friends of the measure to use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people. I feel that the people of Allen county are entitled to a free and fair vote, and that the friends of the measure should use every effort to secure an unanimous expression of the sentiment of the people.
Imagine you see a group of lads in highly ventilated pantalons and with faces which express a mixture of the greatest and the most refined of the human mind. Some of them may be engaged in pitching cents into a hole which with Irish facility at excavation, they have made in the sidewalk. It is a little gambling game, initiatory to more extensive operations of the same nature, in after years, but it attracts no notice except from the eyes of the old newsboys, who are looking on, and betting on the other lads.
Presently an infant sprig of Green Erin, with an old "shiny cap," minus the visor, and a dozen papers under one arm, runs up and says: "Covies the Asia's telegraphed." "Ye lie sheant!" cries one of the players who is in the habit of "joking" the other.
"By—ye is, too!" asserts the first, with an oath indicating great precocity in swearing, even in this city where profanity is as common as sugar and coffee among all classes.
The game is dropped, the coppers are snatched up, and the little fellow vanishes. "How'd you know?" "I seed Smith," the newsboy man, put out for below with his boat to get her papers!"
Now the toys are all tiptoe for Smith's return. After the lapse of a little time, here comes a man reeling with rum, and amid leaves of "Here's Smith!" rushes with a small canvas bag under his arm into the office of the crack newsboy.
The boys are not admitted into the office to disturb the half dozen editors and fifty compositors, who are always getting out the news, around a table in swarming throngs, and in a few minutes, the sound of Hoe's patent Mammotte Press in the basement, soon greets their expectant ears. "It's gone to Press!" they cry; and they crowd a little closer and swear at each other a little harder for "scrapping so!"
In an incredible short space of time a pile of "The Sentinel" is sent to the printer of the publication counter. The doors are opened, and head over heels, in rush the boys, an avalanche of heads and legs. The excitement is fearful of course, but each secures and pays for two or three dozen extras, and immediately pays as great a distance between him and the "Here's Smith!" as he can get, and selling as he goes, and getting the cream of the route he has taken.
Excuse me for giving so much notice to so trifling a subject, but I want to give you occasionally an off-hand at New York life, and especially the New-Boys are a feature.
The contributions for the widow of one-eyed Thompson (the forger, counterfeiter, stool-pigeon and suicide,) still continue to increase. She seems to be a very deserving object.
Among the hot applications which Dr. Kingdland, the Mayor, is giving to the society

New York, March 6, 1851.
There was a big failure in town yesterday, viz: that of Austens and Spicer, auctioneers, whose liabilities amount to millions. Their paper was considered just as good as the bank, and it circulated freely. There was not the slightest suspicion, yesterday morning, of the shock that was to fall like a thunder-bolt upon Wall street at 3 P. M. In the forenoon, Gen. Spicer might be seen selling away with his usual equanimity and good humor, yet of course he was aware that at 3 o'clock this shock was "bound to come."
I understand that the amount of their paper protested yesterday afternoon was $90,000. The papers don't give the particulars. About six months ago, Austens & Spicer refused to take their own paper in pay for goods sold to them for others at auction, and this led to an inquiry into their condition.
They made a statement, satisfied their creditors of their solvency, "some how," and confidence in them was re-established.
This suspension has had a gripping effect on the money market, and added to the alleged suspension of the Hamilton Exchange Bank, the Hollister Bank, Henry Keep's Bank, and the Lewis County Bank, (all small concerns in this State,) it may produce some degree of panic, and several failures. Messrs. Austens & Spicer, it is said, have been unfortunate in some speculations, connected with the failure of the Eastern & Co. of the Empire City Mills at Utica.
The wife of one-eyed Thompson—said to be a good wife and mother—has been presented with $50 by Christy's Minstrels.
The body of Thompson is to be buried to-day at Jersey City

STOLBOARDS, Perforated Paper, Drawing Paper, &c., &c., just received.
HOESTIS & STOPALET.
GREAT NATIONAL PICTURE,
WASHINGTON.
and STUARTS most Celebrated Painting.

IS LARGE AND MAGNIFICENT PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON, from the of an American artist, is considered by all have seen it to be one of the most beautiful pieces of art ever published, and a centerpiece of WASHINGTON. The size of the is eighteen by twenty-eight inches, which make a handsome picture for the Parlor, and be in the hands of EVERY AMERICAN.

 A correct copy from Stuart's celebrated Printing, now at the State House and Conn.
 finely engraved and printed on super paper. That it may be within the mea the publisher has reduced the price persons remitting the amount, may receive a perfect copy by return of mail, part of the United States, carefully put up in a package made for the purpose, and free of postage.

Address all orders, post paid, to the publisher,
JOHN S. FAYLOR, bookseller and Publisher, New York.

of Juvenile Magazine in America.
AGENTS WANTED READY.
Agents Wanted.
 ODWORTH'S YOUTH'S CABINET, still under the editorial charge of FRANCIS C. WOODWORTH, under sixth volume with increase of the number for January.
 This number is now ready for delivery. It is beautiprimarily well-illustrated, comprising, beside the usual of two wood illustrations, a tinted engraving in the style of the art. Its contents, too, are unusually rich, and attractive, such is also the first number of the Journal of Jacaranda periodical.

Unfamiliarity attracted attention to the few paragraphs that is index of

WHAT PEOPLE THINK OF US.

The best monthly magazine for youth that we have best youth's magazine we have ever seen."—Easton.
A. F. COM. Adm.

best for all works of its class. We cannot too warmly commend it."—N. Y. Tribune.

"best juvenile magazine in America."—Brooklyn Examiner.

editor's heart is, in his work. No wagner's work is —Archer's Home Gazette.

best publications of its class that I was acquainted

—Mr. Dr. Adams, New York.
occupies the front rank among pathological for the
—Mr. Dr. Adams, New York.
will have special during the progress of the new to maintain the reputation which Woodworth Adams's r has merited, of being "the best and cheapest and youth's magazine in the country." It will have life, entertaining, often first-class of just such things and youth's delight in; while the most scrupulous if it be taken to make its moral influence pure and ful.

(What is Advance?)—Annual subscription, $1 25; subscribers 12½ cents; annual volumes, each, $1 25; cloth $1.

It is a waste of time to burn clubs for the year 1888—subscriptions are offered to those who take the work in 1888, and are sent the cash with the order. Seven copies for $1, and four copies for 50 cents. Those who do not approach a copy in sent gratis to the entire form. A specimen number is sent gratis to those who fill for this purpose.

On Free Agents Wanted, to travel in different the country—North, East, South, and West—to obtain and to dispose of the natural resources. The best will be made with active, thoughtful, efficient gentlemen, apply with suitable recommendations. A capital of $200,000 is desirable.

How to subscribe. Money may be sent by mail, at the rate of $1.00 per share. Subscriptions will be covered immediately by receipt of the money.

Receipts are authorized to act as agents, and will be 15 percent, for each subscriber paying the full price.
 D. A. WOODWORTH, Publisher.

115 Nassau-st., N. Y.
500 lbs. Wool Wanted
 AT THE FORT WAYNE
Woolen Manufactory
 DILL & WELER return their thanks the public for the liberal patronage they are given, and respectfully inform them that we have made large additions to the collection of the newest and best kinds, and having secured skillful workmen from the east, are prepared to take any quantity of work in repair and manufacture it into

Wool, Cassimeres, Sattinets, Flannels, Blankets, &c.
sited as good, if not better, than any other
-bment in the west. Wool will be worked
-res, or taken in pay for goods. They
-so on hand
YARDS OF WOOLEN GOODS,

WOOL CARDING
Have two double and two single carding machines ready for operation and will do any of Custom Carding in the best manner the shortest notice. Persons to contract

Wool must have their wool well cleaned and unhurried, and to every eight pounds of the pound of clean wool, otherwise the wool will be charged extra. All wool in the above condition will be warranted well carded. Price for Carding is 5 cent and; wool will be received in pay for and price will be according to quality.

CLOTH DRESSING AND DYEING. are also prepared to do any and every Cloth Dressing and dyeing, on the short-est notice, and in the best workmanlike manner.

LINSEED OIL.
We have also on hand the article of Linseed wholesale or retail; and the highest price for Oil will be paid for Flaxseed.
RUDISTILL & WOLKE.
Wayne, April 27, 1850. v44

OF WHEAT,
at the Empire Mills.
We are prepared to pay Cash and highest Price for 20,000 bushels of winter Wheat.
Bakers and Teamsters will save themselves able and expense by driving direct to the SPONE MILLS and unloading. I always get the highest price, and avoid the nuisance of being pestered by the barker and copper snappers from the States, who follow our streets and are such a bore to all who frequent our market. We are not much harassed; but some of our neighbors ing of wanting 10,000 bushels of wheat to inform wheat raisers that we can take 100; as our Mill, besides being the biggest, the highest, and the strongest country. We have a coprenient WAREHOUSE and STABLE, for teams coming to the Mill, and a HOUSE for the Teamster; and a fine lot of corn, and other sturnish food for the masses, and overthrow in Supper and Breakfast for their

This is nothing new with us—we have thought it our duty to do so, and should mention it if our neighbors had not set example.
Keep constantly on hand FLOUR OF HIGHEST QUALITY and all kinds of MI and promptly tried every thing in the Custom Work—always excepting Whit

Bark, or the "face of the Poor
SAMUEL EDSALL,
Empire Mills, at the Aqueduct,
Warne, Sept 6, 1845 1846

Land for sale.

subscriber offers for sale on accomme-ting tract, or a valuable tract of inand wildlands, situated in Allen county, wishing to settle in this county, would is a favorable opportunity to procure THOS. HAMILTON.

E. Bookselling and Stationery Business heretofore conducted by Stephen & Co.
hereafter be continued under the firm of Stephen & Stephen. A. C. HOETIS.
SAM'L STEPHEN.
Office Buildings. }
Wayne, July 5, 1850. }